PREFACE

Over the past several years, the topic of military mental healthcare has received renewed attention, both inside and outside the Armed Forces. This selected bibliography focuses on post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and its presentation in military personnel. Included are references to books, documents, periodical articles, multimedia, and web sites related to this topic. A separate section concentrates on PTSD in members of the military and its relationship to age, gender, or ethnicity. This is followed by a section focusing on disability claims as the result of PTSD.

With a few notable exceptions, the materials in this bibliography are dated 2005 to the present. For information prior to this period, please refer to the previous edition of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and the Military: A Selected Bibliography (November 2005). All items in this bibliography are available through the USAWC Library. For your convenience, at the end of all entries, we have added library call numbers, Internet addresses, or database links. Web sites were accessed during March 2008.

This bibliography and others, compiled by our research librarians, are available online through the Library’s home page at http://www.carlisle.army.mil/library/bibliographies.htm.
