9. Once your manuscript, poster or presentation has been approved for a one-time public release, you may proceed with your publication or presentation submission activities, as stated on this form. Note: For each new release of medical research or technical information as a publication/presentation, a new 59 MDW Form 3039 must be submitted for review and approval.
10. If your manuscript is accepted for scientific publication, please contact the 59 CRD/Publications and Presentations Section at 292-7141. This information is reported to the 59 MDW/CC. All medical research or technical information publications/presentations must be reported to the Defense Technical Information Center (DITC). See 59 MDWI 41-108, Presentation and Publication of Medical and Technical Papers, for additional information.
11. The Joint Ethics Regulation (JER) DoD 5500.07-R, Standards of Conduct, provides standards of ethical conduct for all DoD personnel and their interactions with other non-DoD entities, organizations, societies, conferences, etc. Part of the Form 3039 review and approval process includes a legal ethics review to address any potential conflicts related to DoD personnel participating in non-DoD sponsored conferences, professional meetings, publication/presentation disclosures to domestic and foreign audiences, DoD personnel accepting non-DoD contributions, awards, honoraria, gifts, etc. The specific circumstances for your presentation will determine whether a legal review is necessary. If you (as the author) or your supervisor check "NO" in block 17 of the Form 3039, your research or technical documents will not be forwarded to the 502 ISG/JAC legal office for an ethics review. To assist you in making this decision about whether to request a legal review, the following examples are provided as a guideline:

For presentations before professional societies and like organizations, the 59 MDW Public Affairs Office (PAO) will provide the needed review to ensure proper disclaimers are included and the subject matter of the presentation does not create any cause for DoD concern.

If the sponsor of a conference or meeting is a DoD entity, an ethics review of your presentation is not required, since the DoD entity is responsible to obtain all approvals for the event.

If the sponsor of a conference or meeting is a non-DoD commercial entity or an entity seeking to do business with the government, then your presentation should have an ethics review.

If your travel is being paid for (in whole or in part) by a non-Federal entity (someone other than the government), a legal ethics review is needed. These requests for legal review should come through the 59 MDW Gifts and Grants Office to 502 ISG/JAC.

If you are receiving an honorarium or payment for speaking, a legal ethics review is required.

If you (as the author) or your supervisor check "YES" in block 17 of the Form 3039, your research or technical documents will be forwarded simultaneously to the 502 ISG/JAC legal office and PAO for review to help reduce turn-around time. If you have any questions regarding legal reviews, please contact the legal office at (210) 671-5795/3365, DSN 473.

INPATIENT PSYCHIATRIC ADMISSION RATES IN A U.S. AIR FORCE BASIC MILITARY TRAINING POPULATION

Background: Mental health admission rates for those with no active mental health disorders have shown to have no correlation with age, except with young adults (18-25) with no mental health history which have the largest incidence of inpatient admissions. The U.S. Air Force is predominantly made up of this demographic and almost exclusively within its Basic Training population. This study investigated the incidence of inpatient psychiatric admissions of U.S. Air Force Basic Military Trainees over a 12 month period comparative to U.S. inpatient psychiatric admissions rates of the same demographic.

Objective: To compare Inpatient psychiatric admission rates in a U.S. Air Force Basic Military Training population against the national average.

Methods: A de-identified database with demographic information from psychiatric inpatients actively enrolled in Air Force Basic Military Training (BMT) was collected and compared to a nationally collected de-identified database that stratified national mental health admissions over the 2015 annual year. These were used to compare the relative admission rates. The subjects compared were adults aged 18 to 25 with no history of mental illness. Inclusion criteria for the database required admission to the San Antonio Military Medical Center (SAMMC) inpatient psychiatric ward or screening by the SAMMC emergency department and subsequent transfer to an inpatient mental health facility.

Results: Inpatient psychiatric admission data of 244 U.S. Air Force Basic Military Training patients out of a population of 34,107 U.S. Air Force Basic Military Trainees over a span of 12 months revealed an admission rate of 7.2 admissions per 1000 population. National admission data for the same population demographic revealed an admission rate of 6.0 admissions per 1000 population.

Conclusion: U.S. Air Force Basic Military Training is positively associated with a significant increase (20%) in inpatient psychiatric admissions. Findings suggest a need to better understand the cause of this increased admission rate and to elucidate potential risk factors that may be targets for future studies.
