CHAPTER 1 - GENERAL INFORMATION INTRODUCTION

This index is a compilation of DoD officer and enlisted occupational specialties and Civil Service "white collar" and "blue collar" occupations under two similar occupational grouping structures. The first structure contains enlisted occupations, certain occupations in the General Schedule (GS) series, and most wage board occupations; the second structure contains commissioned and warrant officer occupations, the remainder of the GS occupations, and a few wage board occupations.

These two structures are documented in the tables that follow the introductory material. The third tabular section is an index, organized by occupation level (officer and enlisted) within Service/Civil Service. For each occupation, a corresponding title is displayed, along with the DoD Occupation code to which it is assigned.

This index is intended to serve as an occupational coding structure, designed to group similar occupations from one or more populations into a logical and consistent structure suitable for a variety of analytical purposes. Some of these include serving as a guide to the Office of the Secretary of Defense in manpower management and policy planning, to the Military Departments for various personnel administration functions, and as a basis for statistical reports. The enlisted section catalogs military and civilian occupations into 10 one-digit areas, 69 two-digit groups, and 170 three-digit subgroups. The officer section places military and civilian occupations into 9 one-digit occupational areas and 64 two-digit occupational groups. Health Care Officer Occupational Groups 6A-Physicians, 6C-Dentists, 6E-Nurses, and 6H-Biomedical Sciences and Allied Health Officers are further identified by medical specialty.

Please note that this conversion index does not represent a binding policy on similarity of occupations. Each Military Service has placed its occupation within a DoD taxonomy, and all Service submissions were then compiled to derive the approximate equivalence suggested by the taxonomy (see Technical Notes).

The September 1993 edition of this publication is now obsolete.

TECHNICAL NOTES

(Unless otherwise indicated, the word "Service" should be taken to include Civil Service as well as the Military Services.)

1. The allocation of military and civilian occupational specialties to the various DoD occupational groupings has been based on a careful analysis of the duties of each specialty, as described in the various occupational indexes published by each Military Service and the Office of Personnel Management. While positions with duties and responsibilities that have been judged similar are grouped together, these positions are not necessarily identical; they may vary considerably as a result of inter-Service differences in mission, equipment, and concept of personnel utilization and development. (For specific descriptions of the duties and responsibilities of the occupations listed in the Conversion Tables, the user is referred to the aforementioned occupational indexes - see References).

2. Military Officers have responsibilities above and beyond those inherent in any specific occupational specialty. These responsibilities, such as discipline, training, and planning, have not been used as a basis for allocating the officer occupations to DoD groupings.

3. Occupational Groups 1A and 1B in the Officer Tables are of limited value as indicators of the specific occupational content of the jobs within them. The former is intended to cover all jobs which are filled by Officers of General or Flag rank. The latter has a similar limitation with respect to the Marine Corps, as all its full Colonel occupations are placed in this category. The codes in these groups cover a wide range of occupational content and these General/Flag Officer and Colonel positions are filled on a name basis by the Services.

4. The differentiation between Groups 4B and 4C in the Officer Conversion Tables is an arbitrary one necessitated by the Services' utilization of officers concerned with electrical and electronic equipment. Positions requiring electronic and electrical engineers and/or background in these fields are included in both groupings. All such officers whose primary concern is with communications and radar are included under Group 4C; all others are coded under 4B.

5. The absence of any entries for a Service under a particular DoD group or subgroup may indicate one of the following:

(a) The specialty or function does not exist in that Service. For example, there are no health care specialists (enlisted Groups 30 - 34) or health care officers (officer Groups 6A - 6I) in the Marine Corps; these functions are performed by Naval personnel for both Services.

(b) The function does exist but is encompassed in one or more occupations classified under another DoD group. For example, the Marine Corps has no entry under DoD Group 2F, Tactical Operations Officers, Missiles. This function is included within the duties of MOS 7204, Surface-to-Air Weapons Officer, which is coded under 2E, Ground and Naval Arms.

(c) Groups of jobs in one Service may not have a distinguishing specialty designation because the nature of the job groups differs from Service to Service. For example, Army officers working as Inspectors General (IG)(DoD Group 7L) carry the Area of Concentration (AOC) Code for the kind of work they are doing within the IG function.

6. Female military personnel are not permitted to serve in designated combat or combat-related assignments. Where it is possible to link particular military occupations with such combat assignments, these occupations are footnoted in the tables (footnote "a"). However, the nature of the occupational coding systems for Air Force and Navy officers does not always permit a distinction between combat and non-combat assignments on an occupation-by-occupation basis. It is possible for a female Naval officer serving ashore to hold the same NOBC as a male officer serving aboard a combatant ship. Thus, while no "closed to women" references appear in the tables for Navy and Air Force officers, the general restriction against combat service nonetheless applies.

7. The following is a brief, general explanation of the Services' occupational codes as they appear in the tables:

Army Enlisted - The military occupational specialty (MOS) code consists of five basic characters. The first three characters consist of two numbers and one letter; collectively, they identify the specialty without regard to level of skill. The fourth character is a number which, in combination with the preceding three characters, indicates skill level within the MOS. The fifth character is a letter or a number that identifies special qualifications that are common to a number of positions and MOSs. Additional skill identifiers (ASI) are used to identify specialized skills, qualifications and requirements that are closely related to and are in addition to those inherent to the MOS. The ASI, when applicable, is added as the sixth and seventh characters to the MOS. Except for MOS 91B (Medical Specialist), only the first three characters of each Army MOS code are included in this index.

Navy Enlisted - Occupations are identified by a two- or three-letter rating designation and/or a more detailed four-digit Navy Enlisted Classification (NEC) code. The rating indicates a general field in which the individual has gained expertise. The NEC reflects special knowledge and skills that identify personnel and requirements when the rating structure is insufficient by itself for manpower management purposes. In general, the first two digits of the NEC relate to the rating held by the individual possessing that NEC; the last two digits complete the designation of the special skill possessed. When an occupation in the tables is identified by a two-letter rating designation only, the positions or personnel referred to are those not identified by more specific three-letter ratings or NECs. When an NEC alone is listed (i.e., those beginning with 33, 82 or 83), that NEC may be paired with any of several related ratings. Those NECs beginning with 53, 95, or 99, also shown without a rating, are known as Special Series NECs. They are not related to any particular rating and may thus be awarded to individuals possessing any rating. While these Special Series NECs stand alone as occupations and are categorized as such in the tables, it should be understood that the primary qualifications of the individuals possessing them are indicated by those individuals' ratings and/or rating-related NECs.

Marine Corps Enlisted - A four-digit military occupational specialty (MOS). The MOS describes a group of related duties and responsibilities that extend over one or more grades. The first two digits designate the occupational field (OccFld), the third digit identifies the promotional channel, and the fourth identifies the specialty within the OccFld. MOSs of the 8000-9599 and 9800-9999 groups are used to identify additional skills of individuals and are not necessarily occupationally related.

Air Force Enlisted - A five-character AFSC, the first two of which indicate career field, and the third and fifth of which indicate further specialization within career field. The fourth digit indicates skill level. The AFSC may be further subdivided by alphabetical suffixes and identified separately as "specialty shredouts." Each mandatory shredout is listed as a separate AFSC in this index. Those codes with a first digit of "9" are called Reporting Identifiers, which identify authorizations or individual airmen that are not identifiable in the classification structure and do not have specialty descriptions written. Special Duty Identifiers, with a first digit of "8", identify position authorizations and individual airmen who are performing a group of tasks unrelated to any specific career field.

Coast Guard Enlisted - Occupations are described by a five-digit number; the first three digits describe the rate and the last two are the pay grade. In addition, there is a more detailed two-letter, two-numeral or combination letter/numeral Coast Guard Enlisted Qualification Code (QC). For the purpose of this Index the first three digits are displayed.

Army Commissioned Officer - A three-digit area of concentration (AOC), consisting of two numbers and one letter are used to identify the branch/functional area requirements and areas of expertise for qualification of officers and positions. Reporting classifications are coded similarly (all begin with the digits 00) and are used to identify General Officers and their positions as well as all officers who are in a non-duty status (students, patients, etc.). Skill identifiers (two characters) are used to identify the additional skill requirements of a position and the additional skills in which commissioned officers are classified. Only selected skill identifiers for Army Nurse Corps Officers in AOC 66H (Medical Surgical Nurse) are included in this index.

Army Warrant Officer - The MOS code consists of four characters, three digits and one letter, with each providing successively more precise identification of the occupational skills being coded. The three digits define a military occupation, while the letter is used to designate separately definable qualifications within a military occupation because of major systems or skill differences. Reporting codes, analogous to those for commissioned officers, begin with two zeroes.

Navy Officer - The coding structure used for Navy Officers is different for each of the three occupation codes (Primary, Secondary, and Duty). Coding for the three occupation codes is obtained as follows:

Duty Occupation - A four-digit Navy Officer Billet Classification (NOBC), which identifies a group of officer billets that are similar, but not necessarily identical in scope and in nature of duties. When used to identify a billet, an NOBC is a general statement of duties performed to accomplish some part of an activity's mission. When used in officer classification, an NOBC reflects qualifications required as a result of performance in a billet or, in some instances, a combination of experience and education related to the billet's requirements. The first digit of the NOBC identifies the broad occupational field (e.g., Personnel), the second, the group within the field (e.g., Performance), and the third and fourth digits indicate the specific billet classifications within the group (e.g., Corrections Officer).

Primary Occupation - Composed of a four-digit Designator and the most current three-digit Additional Qualification Designator (AQD-1). The first three digits of the officer designator codes are used to group officers by categories for personnel accounting and administrative purposes. The fourth digit is used to determine the status of the officers in the various categories. Additional Qualification Designator (AQD) Codes enhance Designator codes by identifying more specifically the qualifications of officers and the qualifications required by a billet or awarded to the incumbent of a billet. The first character of the alpha-numeric code identifies a broad occupational area closely related to the designator. The second character specifies the qualifications appropriate to that occupational area with the third character further defining the specific qualifications. Only selected AQD codes associated with Aviation and Supply are included with the designators in this index. A small "x" in the AQD field indicates any applicable AQD second or third character within the occupational area may be used.

Secondary Occupation - Composed of the first four digits of the most current five-digit Subspecialty Code. The fifth digit states the level of the education/training/experience pertaining to the field and is not used in creating Secondary DoD Occupation Codes. Subspecialty codes define the field of application and additional education, experience and training qualifications needed to satisfy special requirements within an occupational field. Subspecialties are applicable to the Unrestricted Line, Restricted Line, and Staff Corps. They are not applicable to Flag Officer billets nor to Warrant Officer and Limited Duty Officer personnel. Selected AQD codes are included with applicable Medical Department subspecialties in this index to further identify medical specialization.

Marine Corps Officer - A four-digit military occupational specialty (MOS), the first two of which designate the occupational field (OccFld). Occupational field 99 consists of identifying and reporting MOSs which are not necessarily occupationally related.

Air Force Officer - A four-character Air Force Specialty Code (AFSC), of which the first character indicates the career area and when combined with the second and third is the utilization field. The fourth character denotes the AFSC qualification level (1-entry, 2-intermediate, 3-qualified, and 4-staff). The AFSC may be further subdivided by alphabetical suffixes, to indicate specialization within the utilization field, and identified separately as "specialty shredouts." Each mandatory shredout is listed as a separate AFSC in this index. Those codes beginning with a first character of "9" are called Reporting Identifiers, and identify authorizations and individual officers that are not identifiable in the classification structure and that do not have specialty descriptions written. Finally, those codes beginning with a first character of "8" are called Special Duty Identifiers, and identify authorizations for and officers assigned to and performing an actual group of tasks on a duty basis. These duties are unrelated to any specific utilization field, and the different Special Duty Identifiers are not occupationally related.

Coast Guard Commissioned Officer - An eight-digit Experience Indicator is used for each Commissioned officer in the grade of Ensign through Captain. The first and second digits show the officer's primary occupational field. A primary occupational field is assigned when an officer completes resident training (normally graduate school) and when that officer is requested to fill a billet using that resident training. Third through eighth digits are additional Experience Indicators. For the purpose of this Index, the first two digits are displayed.

Coast Guard Warrant Officer - Occupations are identified by a three-digit specialty code.

Civilian General Schedule - A four-digit number indicating series, the first two digits indicating the occupational group of which the series is a part. The General Schedule is the basic classification and compensation schedule established by the Classification Act of 1949. For the purposes of this Index, the term "General Schedule" refers to the basic occupational structure and encompasses all pay plans that utilize that structure.

Civilian Wage Board - A four-digit occupational code, the first two of which indicate a general wage family. For the purposes of this Index, the term "Wage Board" refers to the basic occupational classification structure and encompasses all pay plans that utilize that structure.

8. The following footnotes appear in the tables:

- a - Indicates that occupation is not open to women at time of publication.
- b - Indicates a series having no DoD employees at time of publication.
- d - "XX" indicates positions for which any valid characters are acceptable, except 44 or 75 (Basic Marine Corps officer MOS).
- e - "XXX" indicates positions for which any MOS except 09D, 09S, 09T or 09W is acceptable (Army enlisted trainees).
- f - "XX" indicates positions for which any valid characters are acceptable (Basic Marine Corps enlisted MOS).

g - Indicates that certain Army officers holding this AOC are also qualified fixed-wing pilots (Group 2B).

p - The following legend is used in conjunction with Navy Designators, AQD'S, and Subspecialty Codes:

x = Any valid second or third character of the AQD associated with the Designator

y = 0, 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 8, 9 as the fourth digit of Navy Officer Designators

q - The Subspecialty code is used only with the applicable Medical Department Designator: 210y, 220y, 230y, 290y.
