Director's Letter

Dear Readers,

The Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals has a proud history as a reference tool to the world of English-language military periodical literature. We believe that this comprehensive listing of the journal titles indexed over the 55 years of continuous publication will enhance the scope of the AULIMP. The modest coverage of 23 titles in 1949 has blossomed to 80 titles in 2004; the original paper-based format distributed to select libraries and institutions has transformed to an electronic tool accessible to the world.

We hope that you will find that the AULIMP Historical Index of Titles, 1949-2004, offers an insight into the progression of military literature and that it will prove to be useful in your educational and research efforts.

Shirley Brooks Laseter, D.P.A.
Director
Air University Library

Editor's Note

The Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals was created in 1949 to provide access to articles and book reviews in military and aeronautical publications. Until then, the majority of these publications had not been included in any government or commercial index. The original index included twenty-three titles. Currently, eighty periodicals are indexed by librarians at Air University Library and cooperating libraries, and include journals published in both the United States and abroad.

The Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals: Historical Index of Titles 1949-2004 offers a comprehensive listing of all the titles covered by the Index since its inception. The dates of coverage are shown for each journal, along with all title changes. An online version of the Historical Index is available at <http://www.au.af.mil/au/aui/muir1/auiimp.htm> and is continually updated.

A complete listing of past and current journal holdings is available through the annual Air University Master List of Periodicals, online at <http://www.au.af.mil/au/aui/periodicals/maslist.htm>.
