Prepared for U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
Washington, DC 20314-1000

Abstract: Environmental assessments help determine compliance with current environmental regulations. The U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), and Corps of Engineers (Civil Works) have adopted environmental compliance programs that identify compliance problems before they are cited as violations by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Since 1984, the U.S. Army Construction Engineering Research Laboratory, in cooperation with numerous Department of Defense (DOD) components, has developed environmental compliance assessment checklist manuals. The Environmental Assessment and Management (TEAM) Guide was developed for use by all DOD components. Currently there are five participating DOD components: the Air Force, Air National Guard, Army, Civil Works, and DLA. These agencies have agreed to share the development and maintenance of this Guide.

The Guide combines Code of Federal Regulations and management practices into a series of checklists that show legal requirements and the specific operations or items to review. TEAM Guide is supplemented by DOD component-specific manuals detailing DOD component regulations and policies. The Virgin Islands Supplement was developed to be used in conjunction with the TEAM Guide, using existing Virgin Islands environmental legislation and regulations as well as suggested management practices.

Particulate Matter Emissions Limits for Fuel Burning Sources

(Source: CVIR 12-204-23(b))

Table 1: Maximum Allowable Particulate Emissions From Solid Fuel-Burning Equipment As A Function Of Heat Input

Heat input, millions of British thermal units per hour	Maximum allowable emission of particulate matter in lb/hr per million British thermal units of heat input
10 or less	0.60
100	0.36
1,000	0.22
10,000	0.13

The formula,  $E = 1.0/p^{0.22}$ , must be used to interpolate allowable particulate matter emissions for cases in which the British thermal unit (Btu) values for a source fall between those that are listed in the table. As used in this formula, E = allowable emission rate in one pound per million Btu and p = total heat input in million Btu/hour.

WATER QUALITY MANAGEMENT

Virgin Islands Supplement, January 2010

This section covers the territorial requirements for Water Quality Management and is intended to supplement the U.S. TEAM Guide. Refer to the U.S. TEAM Guide and the DOD Component Supplements for Federal, DOD, and service-specific requirements.

NOTE: On December 1st, 2009, the Virgin Islands Department of Planning and Natural Resources (DPNR) filed notice of intent to establish revised water quality standards regulations (WQSR) for the United States Virgin Islands under Title 12 Chapter 7 Subchapter 186 of the VI Rules and Regulations. Specifically, the proposed new language limits the amount of time for persons discharging pollutants into the waters of the United States Virgin Islands to come into compliance with the new Water Quality Standards to a maximum of three years. 14. ABSTRACT Environmental assessments help determine compliance with current environmental regulations. The U.S. Air Force, U.S. Army, Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), and Corps of Engineers (Civil Works) have adopted environmental compliance programs that identify compliance problems before they are cited as violations by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Since 1984, the U.S. Army Construction Engineering Research Laboratory, in cooperation with numerous Department of Defense (DOD) components, has developed environmental compliance assessment checklist manuals. The Environmental Assessment and Management (TEAM) Guide was developed for use by all DOD components. Currently there are five participating DOD components: the Air Force, Air National Guard, Army, Civil Works, and DLA. These agencies have agreed to share the development and maintenance of this Guide. The Guide combines Code of Federal Regulations and management practices into a series of checklists that show legal requirements and the specific operations or items to review. TEAM Guide is supplemented by DOD component-specific manuals detailing DOD component regulations and policies. The Virgin Islands Supplement was developed to be used in conjunction with the TEAM Guide, using existing Virgin Islands environmental legislation and regulations as well as suggested management practices.
