Summary

The legislative branch appropriations bill provides funding for the Senate; House of Representatives; Joint Items; Capitol Police; Office of Compliance; Congressional Budget Office (CBO); Architect of the Capitol (AOC); Library of Congress (LOC), including the Congressional Research Service (CRS); Government Printing Office (GPO); Government Accountability Office (GAO); and Open World Leadership Center.

The legislative branch FY2014 budget request of $4.512 billion was submitted on April 10, 2013. By law, the President includes the requests submitted from the legislative branch in the annual budget without change.

The House and Senate Appropriations Committees' Legislative Branch Subcommittees held hearings to consider the FY2014 legislative branch requests.

The House subcommittee held its markup on July 9, 2013, and the full committee held a markup on July 18. Seven amendments were offered in the full committee, and four were agreed to by voice vote or accepted. The bill, which would provide $3.233 billion (not including Senate items), was reported on July 23 (H.R. 2792, H.Rept. 113-173).

The Senate Appropriations Committee held a markup on July 11 (S. 1283, S.Rept. 113-70). It would provide $2.978 billion (not including House items). No amendments were offered in the Senate markup.

Neither a legislative branch appropriations bill, nor a continuing appropriations resolution (CR), containing FY2014 funding was enacted prior to the beginning of the fiscal year on October 1. A funding gap, which resulted in a partial government shutdown, ensued for 16 days. The funding gap was terminated by the enactment of a CR (P.L. 113-46) on October 17, 2013. The funding provided by the CR expires on January 15, 2014, unless superseded by the enactment of annual appropriations. The legislative branch previously experienced a funding gap in FY1996 (November 14-18, 1995).

The legislative branch budget has decreased each year since FY2010. The FY2013 act funded legislative branch accounts at the FY2012 enacted level, with some exceptions (also known as "anomalies"), less across-the-board rescissions that applied to all appropriations in the act, and not including sequestration reductions implemented on March 1. The FY2012 level represented a decrease of $236.9 million (-5.2%) from the FY2011 level, which itself represented a $125.1 million decrease (-2.7%) from FY2010. P.L. 112-10 (enacted on April 15, 2011) provided $4.543 billion for FY2011 legislative branch operations. P.L. 111-68 (enacted on October 1, 2009) provided $4.656 billion for FY2010. The FY2010 Supplemental Appropriations Act (P.L. 111-212) provided an additional $12.96 million for the Capitol Police.

The smallest of the appropriations bills, the legislative branch comprises approximately 0.4% of total discretionary budget authority.

This section provides an overview of the current status of FY2014 legislative branch appropriations, with subsections covering each action from the initial submission of the request on April 10, 2013, to hearings and markups held by the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, through the enactment of a continuing resolution (P.L. 113-46) on October 17, 2013. That continuing resolution terminated the funding gap that began October 1 and provides budget authority through January 15, 2014.

It is followed by a section on prior year actions and funding, which contains historical figures and tables. The report then addresses the FY2014 budget requests, hearings, and funding issues for individual legislative branch agencies and entities. Finally, Table 4 through Table 8 list FY2012 and FY2013 funding levels and FY2014 budget request and report levels for these accounts, while the Appendix lists House, Senate, and conference bills and reports since FY1998.

The FY2014 U.S. Budget submitted on April 10, 2013, contained a request for $4.512 billion in new budget authority for legislative branch activities.¹

By law, the legislative branch request is submitted to the President and included in the budget without change.²

House Subcommittee Markup

On July 9, 2013, the House subcommittee met to mark up the FY2014 bill. The mark would provide $3.2 billion (not including Senate items, which are determined by the Senate). No amendments were offered, and it was reported to the full committee by voice vote.

House Committee Markup

On July 18, 2013, the full House Appropriations Committee held a markup of the FY2014 bill. Seven amendments were considered before it was ordered reported to the House:

- An amendment offered by Mr. Bishop related to cancelling sequestration, which failed;

- An amendment offered by Mr. Moran, to restore funding for Open World to the FY2013 post-sequester level, which was withdrawn;
- An amendment offered by Ranking Member Wasserman Schultz clarifying that the former House page dorm can only be used by the legislative branch and giving the House Appropriations Committee approval for any renovation plans (Section 1302), which was agreed to;
- An amendment offered by Ranking Member Wasserman Schultz transferring funding proposed for the Stennis Center to the Library, which was agreed to;
- An amendment offered by Mr. Kingston requiring the Government Accountability Office to study the cost savings associated with privatizing the Capitol Power Plant, which was agreed to;⁴
- An amendment offered by Ms. Kaptur to increase funding for the Botanic Garden, which was withdrawn; and
- An amendment offered by Ms. Lee, that added a general provision (Section 214) stating, “It is the sense of the Congress that Congress should not pass any legislation that authorizes spending cuts that would increase poverty in the United States,” which was accepted.

Senate Committee Markup

The Senate committee held its markup of the FY2014 bill on July 11, 2013. The bill would provide $2.978 billion (not including House items, which are determined by the House). No amendments were offered, and the bill was ordered reported by a roll call vote of 16-14 (S. 1283, S.Rept. 113-70).

Beginning of the Fiscal Year: Funding Gap, Shutdown, and Temporary Continuing Resolution

Prior to the beginning of FY2014, congressional action occurred on an interim continuing resolution (CR) that would have provided continuing appropriations for projects and activities for which authority existed during the previous fiscal year.⁵ H.J.Res. 59 was introduced on September 10, 2013, and passed the House on September 20. On September 27, the Senate passed H.J.Res. 59 with an amendment. Subsequent actions to resolve differences between the House and Senate, which included the consideration of various House amendments to that Senate amendment, were unsuccessful prior to the beginning of the fiscal year.

Because none of the 12 regular appropriations bills for FY2014 was enacted prior to the beginning of the fiscal year, a funding gap⁶ ensued on October 1, 2013. Congressional action on

⁶ A funding gap is the interval during the fiscal year when appropriations for a particular project or activity are not enacted into law, either in the form of a regular appropriations act or a CR. Although a shutdown may be the result of a (continued...)

FY2014 appropriations between October 2 and October 15 was generally limited to a number of narrow CRs to provide funding for certain programs or classes of individuals, none of which would have provided funding for the legislative branch.⁷

Since the Antideficiency Act⁸ generally bars the obligation of funds in the absence of appropriations, and pursuant to opinions issued in 1980 and early 1981 by then-Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti further clarifying the need for the federal government to begin terminating regular activities upon the occurrence of a funding gap, a partial shutdown began on October 1, 2013.⁹ Many legislative branch activities were restricted to those “excepted” pursuant to the act, which include activities necessary to protect life and property. Some activities also continued pursuant to authorities cited in a 1990 GAO nondecision letter, which states: “... Congress and its agents may incur obligations to support Congress’s exercise of its constitutional powers.”¹⁰

On October 16, 2013, the Senate passed H.R. 2775 with an amendment that, in part, provided interim continuing appropriations for the previous fiscal year’s projects and activities. Later that same day, the House agreed to the Senate amendment to H.R. 2775. The CR was signed into law on October 17, 2013 (P.L. 113-46), thus terminating the funding gap that same day. With some routine exceptions, the CR provides budget authority through January 15, 2014.

The legislative branch previously experienced a funding gap in FY1996 (November 14-18, 1995).¹¹

Prior Year Funding: Figures and Tables

FY2013 funding of approximately $4.061 billion was provided by P.L. 113-6, which was signed into law on March 26, 2013.¹² The act funded legislative branch accounts at the FY2012 enacted funding gap, the two events may be distinguished, especially in historical practice and prior to the issuance of the Civiletti opinions in 1980 and early 1981, or in instances of short duration when expectation that appropriations would soon be enacted. Of these, only the Department of Defense Survivor Benefits Continuing Appropriations Resolution of 2014 (H.J.Res. 91; P.L. 113-44) was enacted into law.

The guidance addresses, for example, decisions regarding the retention of employees consistent with the Constitution and the Anti-Deficiency Act. ¹¹ P.L. 104-53, the FY1996 Legislative Branch Appropriations Act, was enacted on November 19, 1995, prior to the funding gap that lasted from December 16, 1995, through January 5, 1996.

level, with some exceptions (also known as “anomalies”), and less across-the-board rescissions required by Section 3004 of P.L. 113-6. Section 3004 was intended to eliminate any amount by which the new budget authority provided in the act exceeds the FY2013 discretionary spending limits in Section 251(c)(2) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act, as amended by the Budget Control Act of 2011 and the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012. Subsequent to the enactment of P.L. 113-6, OMB calculated that additional rescissions of 0.032% of security budget authority, and 0.2% of nonsecurity budget authority, would be required. The act did not alter the sequestration reductions implemented on March 1, which reduced most legislative branch accounts by 5.0%.¹³ The accompanying OMB report indicated a dollar amount of budget authority to be canceled in each account containing non-exempt funds.¹⁴

Previously, division G of the FY2012 Consolidated Appropriations Act (P.L. 112-74) provided $4.307 billion for the legislative branch. This level was $236.9 million (-5.2%) below the FY2011 enacted level. P.L. 112-10 provided $4.543 billion for legislative branch operations in FY2011. This level represented a $125.1 million decrease from the $4.668 billion provided in the FY2010 Legislative Branch Appropriations Act (P.L. 111-68) and the FY2010 Supplemental Appropriations Act (P.L. 111-212). The FY2009 Omnibus Appropriations Act provided $4.402 billion. In FY2009, an additional $25.0 million was provided for the Government Accountability Office (GAO) in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.¹⁵ P.L. 111-32, the FY2009 Supplemental Appropriations Act, also contained funding for a new Capitol Police radio system ($71.6 million) and for the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) ($2.0 million).¹⁶

Figure 1 shows the timing of legislative branch appropriations actions, including the issuance of House and Senate reports, bill passage, and enactment, from FY1993-FY2014. It shows that a legislative branch bill has been enacted on or before October 1 seven times during this period (FY1994, FY1995, FY1997, FY2000, FY2004, FY2006, and FY2010), with another three bills enacted during the first month of the fiscal year (FY1993, FY1998, and FY1999), two in November (FY1996 and FY2002), four in December (FY2001, FY2005, FY2008, and FY2012), and six in the next calendar year (FY2003, FY2007, FY2009, FY2011, FY2013, and FY2014). It also indicates when, through FY2013, the legislative branch bill has been enacted as a stand-alone measure (12 times) and when it was enacted as a part of a consolidated or omnibus measure (9 times).

Figure 2 compares legislative branch discretionary budget authority with total discretionary budget authority from FY1976-FY2012. It shows the legislative branch as a proportion of total discretionary budget authority over this period has remained relatively stable at approximately 0.4%. The highest proportional full-year level, 0.48%, was in FY1995, and the lowest, 0.31%, was in FY2009.

Table 3 provides additional information on legislative branch funding provided in annual and supplemental appropriations acts.

Notes: When House and Senate action occurs on the same date, the House is shown first. The FY2010 Legislative Branch Appropriations Act (P.L. 111-68) is listed in this figure as stand-alone legislation (Division A), although it was also the vehicle for a continuing appropriations resolution (Division B).

(percentage by fiscal year, FY1976-FY2012)

Notes: The table has some limitations, since the OMB data do not completely align with items funded in the annual and supplemental legislative branch appropriations acts. The differences may be partially traced to the definition of “legislative branch” in the OMB Public Budget Database “user’s guide.” Some entities regularly included with the legislative branch in many OMB budget documents, like the United States Tax Court and some Legislative Branch Boards and Commissions, are not funded through the annual legislative branch appropriations acts. Consequently, an examination of the discretionary budget authority listed in the Historical Tables reveals some differences with the reported total budget authority provided in the annual legislative branch appropriations acts. The difference in legislative branch budget authority resulting from the different definitions of the legislative branch in the OMB budget documents and in the appropriations acts, however, does not represent a large difference in the proportion of total discretionary budget authority.

FY2014 Legislative Branch Funding Issues

The following sections discuss the various legislative branch accounts as well as issues discussed during the hearings on the budget requests.

Senate

Overall Funding

The Senate requested $892.1 million for FY2014. The Senate reported bill contains $871.99 million.

The FY2012 level of $868.6 million represented a decrease of $45.6 million (-5.0%) from the $914.2 million provided in FY2011, and the FY2011 level itself represented a reduction of $12.0 million (-1.3%) from the FY2010 level of $926.2 million.

Additional information on the Senate account is presented in Table 5.

Senate Committee Funding

Appropriations for Senate committees are contained in two accounts:¹⁷

- The inquiries and investigations account contains funds for all Senate committees except Appropriations. The Senate requested $134.0 million for inquiries and investigations, the level provided by the Senate report. The FY2012 level of $131.3 million was a decrease of $8.9 million (-6.4%) from the $140.2 million provided in FY2011 and FY2010.
- The Committee on Appropriations account contains funds for the Senate Appropriations Committee. The Senate requested $15.14 million, and the Senate report would provide $15.06 million. The FY2012 enacted level was $14.9 million.

Senators' Official Personnel and Office Expense Account

The Senators' Official Personnel and Office Expense Account (SOPOEA) provides each Senator with funds to administer an office. It consists of an administrative and clerical assistance allowance, a legislative assistance allowance, and an official office expense allowance. The funds may be used for any category of expenses, subject to limitations on official mail.

The Senate requested, and the committee report would provide, $394.2 million for FY2014.

¹⁷ For additional information on committee funding, see CRS Report R40424, Senate Committee Expenditures Resolutions, 113th Congress, and Funding Authorizations Since 1999, by Matthew E. Glassman.

The FY2012 level of $396.2 million represented a decrease of $13.0 million (-3.2%) from the FY2011 level of $409.2 million. The FY2012 decrease followed a decrease in FY2011 of $12.8 million (-3.0%) from the FY2010 level of $422.0 million.¹⁸

House of Representatives

Overall Funding

The House requested $1.233 billion for FY2014. The House-reported bill would provide $1.172 billion.

The FY2012 level of $1.226 billion represented a decrease of $85.7 million (-6.5%) from the FY2011 level of $1.311 billion. The FY2011 level represented a decrease of $57.6 million (-4.2%) from the FY2010 level of $1.369 billion.

Additional information on headings in the House of Representatives account is presented in Table 6.

House Committee Funding¹⁹

Funding for House committees is contained in the appropriation heading “committee employees,” which comprises two subheadings.

The first subheading contains funds for personnel and nonpersonnel expenses of House committees, except the Appropriations Committee, as authorized by the House in a committee expense resolution. The House requested $126.7 million, and the House-reported bill would provide $119.4 million. The FY2012 level of $126.0 million was a decrease of $8.6 million from the $134.5 million provided for FY2011. The FY2011 level was a decrease of $5.3 million from the $139.9 million provided in FY2010.

The second subheading contains funds for the personnel and nonpersonnel expenses of the Committee on Appropriations. The FY2014 request would provide $26.8 million, and the House-reported bill would provide $25.3 million. The FY2012 level of $26.7 million was a decrease of $1.8 million from the FY2011 level of $28.5 million, which was a decrease of $2.8 million from the FY2010 level of $31.3 million.

¹⁸ The numbers above are for the SOPOEA for all Senators. The FY2011 act (P.L. 112-10) also contained language relating to the individual allowances for each Senator, stating, “each Senator’s official personnel and office expense allowance (including the allowance for administrative and clerical assistance, the salaries allowance for legislative assistance to Senators, as authorized by the Legislative Branch Appropriation Act, 1978 (P.L. 95-94), and the office expense allowance for each Senator’s office for each State) in effect immediately before the date of enactment of this section shall be reduced by 5 percent.” In addition to the overall account level, the Senate reports accompanying the legislative branch bill generally provide preliminary information on the allocation for Senators from each state. For example, see U.S. Congress, Senate Committee on Appropriations, Legislative Branch Appropriations, 2013, report to accompany H.R. 5882, 112th Cong., 2nd sess., S.Rept. 112-197 (Washington: GPO, 2012), pp. 20-21.

¹⁹ For additional information on committee funding, CRS Report RL32794, House Committee Funding Requests and Authorizations, 104th-113th Congresses, by Matthew E. Glassman.

Members' Representational Allowance²⁰

The Members' Representational Allowance (MRA) is available to support Members in their official and representational duties. For FY2014, $577.5 million was requested, and the House-reported bill would provide $543.9 million. The $573.9 million provided in FY2012 was $39.1 million less than the $613.1 million provided in FY2011. The FY2011 level was a decrease of nearly $47.0 million from the $660.0 million provided in FY2010.

Support Agency Funding

U.S. Capitol Police

The U.S. Capitol Police (USCP) are responsible for the security of the Capitol Complex including the U.S. Capitol, the House and Senate office buildings, the U.S. Botanic Garden, and the Library of Congress buildings and adjacent grounds.

The USCP requested $363.3 million for FY2014. The House-reported bill would provide $329.7 million, and the Senate reported bill would provide $338.5 million.

Previously, the FY2012 Consolidated Appropriations Act provided $340.1 million, the same level as for FY2011.

Additional information on the USCP is presented in Table 7.

Appropriations for the police are contained in two accounts—a salaries account and a general expenses account. The salaries account contains funds for the salaries of employees; overtime pay; hazardous duty pay differential; and government contributions for employee health, retirement, Social Security, professional liability insurance, and other benefit programs. The general expenses account contains funds for expenses of vehicles; communications equipment; security equipment and its installation; dignitary protection; intelligence analysis; hazardous material response; uniforms; weapons; training programs; medical, forensic, and communications services; travel; relocation of instructors for the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center; and other administrative and technical support, among other expenses.

Another appropriation relating to the Capitol Police appears within the Architect of the Capitol account for Capitol Police buildings and grounds. The FY2014 request contains $26.9 million, the House-reported bill would provide $18.9 million, and the Senate reported bill would provide ²⁰ For additional information, see CRS Report R40962, Members' Representational Allowance: History and Usage, by Ida A. Brudnick.

$21.3 million. Previously, $21.5 million was provided in FY2012, and the FY2011 enacted level was nearly $27.0 million.

Administrative Provisions

The Capitol Police requested administrative provisions providing authority to transfer between salaries and expenses (Section 1101) and making “available balances of expired United States Capitol Police appropriations” available for “deposit to the credit of the Employees’ Compensation Fund required by section 8147(b) of title 5, United States Code” (Section 1102). Both of these provisions previously were included in the FY2013 House-passed and Senate-reported bills. The FY2014 bills reported in the House and Senate included both provisions.

Highlights of the House and Senate Hearings on the FY2014 Budget of the U.S. Capitol Police

On April 10, 2013, the House subcommittee discussed the Capitol Police training requests, radio modernization program, district office security, door closures, overtime use, discrimination complaints, and the Capitol Police Board.

At a hearing on June 6, 2013, the Senate subcommittee discussed the effects of sequestration.

Architect of the Capitol

The Architect of the Capitol (AOC) is responsible for the maintenance, operation, development, and preservation of the United States Capitol Complex, which includes the Capitol and its grounds, House and Senate office buildings, Library of Congress buildings and grounds, Capitol power plant, Botanic Garden, Capitol Visitor Center, and Capitol Police buildings and grounds. The Architect is responsible for the Supreme Court buildings and grounds, but appropriations for their expenses are not contained in the legislative branch appropriations bill.

Overall Funding Levels

Operations of the Architect are funded in the following 10 accounts: general administration, Capitol building, Capitol grounds, Senate office buildings, House office buildings, Capitol power plant, Library buildings and grounds, Capitol Police buildings and grounds, Capitol Visitor Center, and Botanic Garden.

The Architect requested $681.7 million for FY2014. The House-reported bill would provide $507.99 million, not including funding for the Senate office buildings. The Senate-reported bill would provide $468.9 million, not including funding for House office buildings.

The FY2012 level of $567.5 million represented a decrease of $32.9 million (-5.5%) from the FY2011 enacted level of $600.4 million (not including a rescission of $14.6 million in unobligated amounts of prior year appropriations for the Capitol Visitor Center contained in the FY2011 act). The FY2011 level represented a decrease of $1.2 million (-0.2%) from the $601.6 million provided in FY2010. In FY2010, a 21.7% increase (or $644.6 million) was requested, and a 13.6% increase was provided ($601.6 million).²¹ In FY2009, a 55.4% increase ($642.7 million) was requested, and a 28% increase ($529.6 million) was provided. The FY2008 budget authority ($413.5 million) represented a decrease of 8.1% from the $449.9 million (including supplemental appropriations) provided in FY2007.

The FY2014 request for each of the AOC accounts is presented in Table 8.

Administrative Provision

The House-reported bill contains administrative provisions requiring a semiannual report of disbursements and related to the use of 501 First Street, S.E. (the former House page dorm). The Senate reported bill contains a provision extending a law related to the collection and sale of recyclable materials.

Highlights of the House and Senate Hearings on the FY2014 Budget of the Architect of the Capitol

Among the items discussed at the House subcommittee hearing on March 5, 2013, were funding for the Capitol Dome rehabilitation project, the prioritization of projects, transfer authority provided in FY2013, plans for the renovation of the Cannon House Office Building and the condition of the Rayburn building, the effect of the sequester on overtime work, plans for the House page dorm, and the restoration of the Summerhouse on the West Front Lawn of the U.S. Capitol.

At a hearing on June 6, 2013, the Senate subcommittee discussed the effects of sequestration, the restoration of the Capitol Dome, and the prioritization of projects.

Congressional Budget Office (CBO)

CBO is a nonpartisan congressional agency created to provide objective economic and budgetary analysis to Congress. CBO cost estimates are required for any measure reported by a regular or conference committee that may vary revenues or expenditures.²²

CBO requested $45.7 million for FY2014. The House-reported bill would provide $41.5 million, and the Senate reported bill would provide $45.7 million.

The FY2012 level of $43.8 million represented a decrease of 6.4% from the FY2011 level of $46.8 million. CBO received $45.2 million for FY2010; $44.1 million was provided in the FY2009 Omnibus Appropriations Act (P.L. 111-8), and $2.0 million, to remain available through FY2010, was provided in the FY2009 Supplemental Appropriations Act (P.L. 111-32).

²² The Congressional Budget Office is required to use estimates provided by the Joint Committee on Taxation for all revenue legislation (Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, P.L. 99-177, §273, 99 Stat. 1098, December 12, 1985; 2 U.S.C. §621 (et seq.)).

Administrative Provisions

CBO has requested two administrative provisions for FY2014. The requested provisions would

1. allow CBO's appropriation to be used to pay the compensation of certain employees with non-immigrant visas, a provision also requested in FY2012 and FY2013, and
2. allow CBO to accept the use of voluntary student services as part of an agency program established for the purpose of providing educational experiences for the students, a provision also requested in FY2013. The House-reported bill included this provision.

Highlights of the House and Senate Hearings on the FY2014 Budget of CBO

At the House hearing on February 27, 2013, the subcommittee discussed the impact of sequestration and findings and projections in recent CBO products.

Among the items discussed at the May 21, 2013, Senate subcommittee hearing were the number of requests received by CBO, its methodologies, and staffing levels with sequestration.

Library of Congress (LOC)

The Library of Congress serves simultaneously as Congress's parliamentary library and the de facto national library of the United States. Its broader services to the nation include the acquisition, maintenance, and preservation of a collection of more than 155 million items²³ in a wide range of traditional and new media; service to the general public and scholarly and library communities; administration of U.S. copyright laws by its Copyright Office; and administration of a national program to provide reading material to the blind and physically handicapped. Its direct services to Congress include the provision of legal research and law-related services by the Law Library of Congress, and a broad range of activities by the Congressional Research Service (CRS), including in-depth and nonpartisan public policy research, analysis, and legislative assistance for Members and committees and their staff; congressional staff training; information and statistics retrieval; and continuing legal education for Members of both chambers and congressional staff.

Highlights of the House and Senate Hearings on the FY2014 Budget of the Library of Congress

At a hearing on February 27, 2013, the House subcommittee addressed the effects of sequestration, the number of congressional requests, exchanges with international libraries, fee structures for certain services, the request for Ft. Meade Module 5 storage, and plans for the Twitter archive.

At a hearing on May 7, 2013, the Senate subcommittee asked about the number of requests from Congress, core services of the Library, and sequestration.

These levels do not include offsetting collections.²⁷

Administrative Provision

In addition to a provision related to deposits for the Employees' Compensation Fund (provided in P.L. 113-6), GAO requested language related to the collection of fees for filing protests and changing certain reports required under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act from bimonthly to annual. The House and Senate reports both contain a provision related to the collection of fees related to the establishment and operation of an electronic filing and document dissemination system for protests. As stated above, an amendment adopted at the full committee markup, included in language in the House report, requires GAO to study the cost savings associated with privatizing the Capitol Power Plant.

²⁷ Offsetting collections include funds derived from reimbursable audits and rental of space in the GAO building.

Office of Compliance

The Office of Compliance is an independent and nonpartisan agency within the legislative branch. It was established to administer and enforce the Congressional Accountability Act, which was enacted in 1995.³¹ The act applies various employment and workplace safety laws to Congress and certain legislative branch entities.³²

Open World Leadership Center

The Open World Leadership Center administers a program that supports democratic changes in other countries by inviting their leaders to observe democracy and free enterprise in the United States. The first program was authorized by Congress in 1999 to support the relationship between Russia and the United States. The program encouraged young federal and local Russian leaders to visit the United States and observe its government and society.

Established at the Library of Congress as the Center for Russian Leadership Development in 2000, the center was renamed the Open World Leadership Center in 2003, when the program was expanded to include specified additional countries.³³ In 2004, Congress further extended the program's eligibility to other countries designated by the center's board of trustees, subject to congressional consideration.³⁴ The center is housed in the Library and receives services from the Library through an inter-agency agreement.

Open World requested $10.06 million for FY2014.

The House subcommittee mark would provide $1.0 million. As stated above, an amendment to restore funding for Open World to the FY2013 post-sequester level was debated and withdrawn during the full committee markup. The House report states:

For many years the Committee has had concern with the placement of the Open World Leadership Center (OWLC) in the Legislative Branch. The Committee understands the program has some strong champions on the Committee. However, with further reductions being made to every program within the Legislative Branch, the Committee has provided

$1,000,000 to cover the cost associated with the shutdown of the OWLC. The Committee directs the Executive Director of the OWLC to retain any necessary prior year funds in the Trust to cover any cost in excess of the $1,000,000 provided in this bill be utilized for the orderly shutdown. The Executive Director is further directed that the program termination is to be finalized within one year of enactment of the Legislative Branch fiscal year 2014 appropriation bill.³⁵

The Senate reported bill would provide $4.0 million, as well as a provision allowing the Librarian of Congress to transfer up to $6.0 million in non-appropriated funds to Open World.

Previously, the FY2013 Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act contained an anomaly for Open World, providing it with $8.0 million, not including sequestration or the across-the-board rescission.³⁶ FY2012 level was $1.38 million (-12.1%) less than the $11.38 million provided in FY2011 (P.L. 112-10). The FY2011 level represented a decrease of $623,000 (-5.2%) from the $12.00 million provided for FY2010, and the FY2010 level represented a decrease of $1.90 million (-13.7%) from the $13.90 million provided in the FY2009 Omnibus. The FY2009 level was a $4.92 million increase (54.8%) over the $8.98 million provided in FY2008, which was a decrease of $4.88 million (-35.2%) from the $13.86 million provided in FY2007 and FY2006.

Ongoing Discussion of Location of Open World

The location and future of Open World, as well as its inclusion in the legislative branch budget, have been a topic of discussion at appropriations hearings in recent fiscal years.

The FY2013 House-reported bill would have provided $1.0 million, a decrease of $9.0 million (-90.0%), from the $10.0 million provided in FY2012 and requested for FY2013. The House report states that this funding level would “cover the cost associated with the shutdown” and directed that “the program termination is to be finalized within one year of enactment of the Legislative Branch fiscal year 2013 appropriations bill.”³⁷ H.Amdt. 1281, agreed to by recorded vote (204-203, Roll no. 373), eliminated this funding. At the Senate FY2013 budget request hearing on March 1, 2012, the subcommittee discussed potential options for increasing private funding, including the hire of a development professional. The Senate-reported bill would have provided $10.0 million. P.L. 113-6 provided $8.0 million for FY2013, not including the across-the-board rescission or sequestration.

Previously, the House-passed FY2012 bill (H.R. 2551) would have provided $1.0 million, a decrease of 91.2% from the FY2011 level of $11.38 million. The House report stated, “The program has some strong champions on the Committee, but with reductions being made to most every program within the Federal budget the Committee has elected to shut down the program and recommends $1,000,000 for shutdown expenses.”³⁸ The Senate-reported bill, in contrast, would have provided $10.0 million (-12.1% below the FY2011 level). The Senate report stated that “despite the fiscal constraints of the budget this program is necessary for the promotion of democratic principles in countries with historically oppressive rule.”³⁹ The Consolidated Appropriations Act provided the Senate-reported level of $10.0 million.

Additionally, the FY2010 House Appropriations Committee report stated that “the Legislative Branch Subcommittee has been clear that it expects the Open World program to become financially independent of funding in this bill as soon as possible.”⁴⁰ This sentiment was also expressed in the conference report, which stated,

The conferees are fully supportive of expanded efforts of the Open World Center to raise private funding and expect this effort to reduce the requirements for funding from the Legislative Branch appropriations bill in future years. The Committees look forward to a report of progress being made by the Center’s fundraising program prior to hearings on its fiscal year 2011 budget request.⁴¹

The location within the legislative branch was discussed during a hearing on the FY2009 budget. Ambassador John O’Keefe, the executive director of Open World, testified that the program may attract different participants if associated with the executive branch rather than the Library of Congress, which may be seen as more neutral and nonpartisan.⁴² The FY2009 explanatory statement directed the Open World Leadership Center Board of Trustees to work with the State Department and the judiciary to establish a shared funding mechanism.⁴³

The subcommittees also had discussed this issue during the FY2008 appropriations cycle,⁴⁴ and language was included in the FY2008 Consolidated Appropriations Act requiring Open World to prepare a report by March 31, 2008, on “potential options for transfer of the Open World Leadership Center to a department or agency in the executive branch, establishment of the Center as an independent agency in the executive branch, or other appropriate options.”⁴⁵ In 2004, GAO issued a report on the Open World program, examining program participation, purpose, and accountability.⁴⁶

⁴⁴ In H.R. 2771 (110th Cong.), the House-passed version of the FY2008 appropriations bill, the House Appropriations Committee recommended $6.0 million for Open World. The committee report stated that an additional $6.0 million would be provided for transfer to the program in the FY2008 State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs appropriation. The House-passed bill, which retained the committee-recommended funding level, also contained an administrative provision transferring the Open World Leadership Center to the Department of State effective October 1, 2008. The Senate-reported bill (S. 1686, 110th Cong.) would have provided $13.5 million in new budget authority for Open World.

John C. Stennis Center for Public Service Training and Development

The center was created by Congress in 1988 to encourage public service by congressional staff through training and development programs.⁴⁷

The center requested $430,000 for FY2014. The Senate-reported bill would provide $430,000. The House subcommittee mark would have provided $407,508. An amendment offered at the full committee reduced this to $0. The FY2014 House report (H.Rept. 113-173) states:

The fiscal year 2012 Conference Agreement (House Report 112-331) directed that future budget requests from the John C. Stennis Center be accompanied by an appropriately detailed budget justification as requested in House Report 112-148. The John C. Stennis Center has repeatedly ignored this directive.⁴⁸

Previously, $430,000, not including the across-board-rescission or sequestration, was provided for the center in FY2013. The FY2013 Senate-reported bill would have provided the requested level of $430,000. The FY2013 House-passed bill did not provide funding for the Stennis Center, and the House report stated:

The fiscal year 2012 Conference Agreement (H.Rept. 112-331) directed that future budget requests from the John C. Stennis Center be accompanied by an appropriately detailed budget justification as requested in H.Rept. 112-148. The Committee did not receive such justification and therefore has not provided the requested funding.⁴⁹

The $430,000 and directive for budget justifications included in the FY2012 conference report followed language in H.Rept. 112-148, the FY2012 House report, which stated:

The Center was created by Congress in 1988 with an appropriation of $7.5 million which subsequently was transferred to the John C. Stennis Trust Fund and invested in non-expendable corpus Special Issue Certificates of Indebtedness with the U.S. Treasury. As reflected in the current Budget of the United States, the Center has $15 million invested with the Treasury, and at a 2 percent return should generate $300,000 that can be utilized for the annual operation of the program. Since the principal of the fund has doubled from the original appropriation and with reduced funding within the Legislative Branch, the Committee has provided zero funding for the John C. Stennis Center for Public Service Training and Development.

The Committee directs that any further budget request from the John C. Stennis Center be accompanied by an appropriately detailed budget justification.

The Stennis Center was funded at $430,000 in FY2011 (less 0.2% from an across-the-board rescission), FY2010, FY2009, FY2008 (less 0.25% rescission from an across-the-board rescission), and FY2007.

The Budget Control Act, the Legislative Branch Budget, and Tables 4-8

The following tables provide information on funding levels for the legislative branch overall, the Senate, the House of Representatives, the Capitol Police, and the Architect of the Capitol. The tables will be updated as additional information becomes available.

FY2013 discretionary appropriations were considered in the context of the Budget Control Act of 2011 (BCA, P.L. 112-25) that established discretionary spending limits for FY2012-FY2021 to achieve $1.2 trillion in savings over 10 years. The BCA also tasked a Joint Select Committee to develop a federal deficit reduction plan for Congress and the President to enact by January 15, 2012. The failure of Congress and the President to enact deficit reduction legislation by that date triggered an automatic spending reduction process established by the BCA, consisting of a combination of sequestration (across-the-board cuts) and lower discretionary spending caps, to begin on January 2, 2013. Sequestration was delayed until March 1, 2013, and the required reductions lowered, by enactment of the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (P.L. 112-240). The modified sequestration was implemented as scheduled on March 1, 2013, and it reduced most legislative branch accounts by 5.0%. A bill providing government funding for the remainder of FY2013, P.L. 113-6, was signed into law on March 26, 2013, and did not include provisions that altered the sequester.

In addition, Section 3004 of P.L. 113-6 was intended to eliminate any amount by which the new budget authority provided in the act exceeds the FY2013 discretionary spending limits in Section 251(c)(2) of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act, as amended by the Budget Control Act of 2011 and the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012. As enacted, this section provides two separate across-the-board rescissions—one for nonsecurity budget authority and one for security budget authority—of 0%, to be applied at the program, project, and activity level. The section requires the percentages to be increased if OMB estimates that additional rescissions are needed to avoid exceeding the limits. Subsequent to the enactment of P.L. 113-6, OMB calculated that additional rescissions of 0.032% of security budget authority, and 0.2% of nonsecurity budget authority, would be required. Most of the legislative branch was subject to the nonsecurity rescission, although the Open World Leadership Center was subject to the security rescission.
