INTRODUCTION

The structure and hierarchical order of the USSR Ministry of Defense and its subordinate organizations, provided in this directory, is based on: 1) the grammatical structure of the position titles listed for Soviet officers in USSR, Russian language media sources, unless otherwise indicated; 2) the chart "The Structure of the USSR Armed Forces" published in IZVESTIYA in Russian on 22 February 1990 in the First Edition on page 1; and subsequent legislation (both Republic and All-Union).

A remarkable amount of new and detailed information on the Soviet defense establishment has become available recently. Some of this has redefined, contradicted or clarified longstanding notions as to the translation of Soviet military terms. Every effort is made to remain faithful to the current, original Soviet usage.

For example, Soviet coverage of Coalition-Iraqi war lead to a clarification of Soviet usage of the terms "adviser" and "specialist". [Smirnov] "An adviser (sovetnik) gives advice on how to fight and use weapons and other military equipment. Therefore, he bears a certain responsibility. A specialist (spetsialist) is responsible only for the technical maintenance of the military equipment and weapons supplied by our country, and nothing else. We have never had our advisers in Iraq, not even during its war with Iran." (NEW TIMES No. 7, 19-25 Feb 91 p 18.)

Similarly General Ivanov of the "Space Units" went to some trouble to explain the distinct difference between "troops" (voyska) and "units" (chasti). General Ivanov made the following comment: "We are not troops, (voyska) we are units (chasti). There is a basic difference in the names. Troops are armed with concrete weapon systems and their purpose is to accomplish combat assignments. But units is the name for the groups that facilitate that task." (Ivanov, V.L., Col-Gen, IZVESTIYA 12 Dec 90 Union Ed p 6.)

As a result where errors have crept into English usage, and despite longstanding acceptance among Western readers, the Directory seeks to translate such terms consistently according to currently known Soviet usage. Thus "voyska" is rendered as "troops" throughout and the translation of

"Raketnyye Voyska Strategicheskogo Naznacheniya" as "Strategic Rocket Forces", has been abandoned in favor of "Strategic Missile Troops", "Ground Forces" in favor of "Ground Troops", etc.

The Directory is organized on the basis of "administrative" rather than "operational" subordination. For example, troops of a military district are administratively subordinate to that district. However, if the same troops are deployed for operational purposes they would come under the "operational subordination" of the "Main Sector Command" [Glavnoye Komandovaniye voysk napravleniya]. The reader should note that not all levels of hierarchy are listed in the table of contents. Lower level agencies occur throughout the directory, but may be found only by referring to the next higher organization.

During 1991 the "Political Directorates" were changed to "Military-Political Directorates". As a part of this transformation the chiefs of the various political directorates were also referred to as 1st deputy commanders (or 1st deputy commanders-in-chief) of the relevant command. Whether or not the new military-political directorates have thereby become subordinate to the relevant staffs, main staffs or the General Staff has not been explicitly stated. Since the chiefs of military-political agencies hold the position of "1st deputy" they may be equal to and not subordinate to a given "Chief of Staff", since the latter is also titled "1st Deputy".

During 1991 information was made available in the media on a variety of previously closed organizations and their functions. Thus the directory for the first time contains an entry for the GRU.

The Directory does not provide a complete listing of all personnel or organizations in the Ministry's structure.

If known, the next higher organization in a given hierarchy is listed to the right of the organization name, and is placed in square brackets, i.e. [...].

In order to preserve the integrity of the spelling of names, wherever possible, the Russian soft sign is indicated by the use of an apostrophe. The Russian hard sign is indicated by the use of double quotation marks.

Honors and awards have been excluded from both individual and organizational titles.

Capitalization is adjusted to standard English style.

Wherever possible, each entry provides a source and date in which the officer was FIRST NOTED in a given position, and the MOST RECENT source and date mentioning the officer. Where a date precedes a source, as in: "(27 Jul 90 in KVS 15/90 pp 46-62.)", the date is that on which the journal was signed to press.

Due to the growth of inter-ethnic and inter-republic conflict within the USSR local and republic military organizations and public military-oriented organizations have proliferated. Official agencies concerned with military affairs have similarly proliferated. Therefore, the directory now includes a section listed both official and unofficial military and concerned agencies and groups. It is not complete. The pace of change has been too fast. Some groups may well have been dissolved prior to this printing. Others have, doubtless come into being since.

MVD and KGB officers and agencies are not listed in this directory, except as they may relate to the Armed Forces and military affairs. ACRONYMS AND

MAIN MILITARY-POLITICAL DIRECTORATE OF THE USSR ARMED FORCES

[Previously referred to as: "Main Political Directorate of the Soviet Army and Navy" (Glav PUR SA I VMF)]

[YAZOV: "The military-political organs will now be a branch, so to speak, of the chain of command, ...Obviously the relations of party organs, the relations of commanders with secretaries of party committees, will still go on grinding themselves in to a certain extent. The Army on the whole will continue to be based on a combined system of command." (Moscow Central Television First Program Network in Russian 1215 GMT 30 Mar 91.)]

[SHLYAGA: "The new military-political organs are becoming a part of the structure of the military administration bodies. In the vertical plane they will have their own hierarchy, with, in effect, a single line of subordination rising from the grass roots to the top level, just like the organs of military administration as a whole.

"I believe that our main function will be to see that they [the new laws on defense] are implemented by explaining them to all categories of our servicemen. Our second task will be to provide political backing for the task of maintaining the army and navy in a state of readiness for combat and mobilization, and to draw up and implement measures to strengthen military discipline and prevent violations of the law by military personnel. Taking this question further, our job will be to take part in preparing citizens for military service, in implementing youth policy in our armed forces, in implementing personnel policies in the armed forces, and a number of other things." MILITARY ASSISTANCE GROUPS

[N.B. Two types of personnel are commonly deployed, "advisers" and "military specialists". "Advisers work with unit commanders and are, for all practical purposes, the same commanders with parallel powers. They have access to documents and personnel, have the powers of control and participation in combat work. In short, their role is far more important and involves greater responsibility than that of specialists." (KZ 5 Apr 91 First Edition p 1.)

"...a secret 'organization of officer democrats' ...The basic goals are the qualitative improvement of the armed forces, in particular of its officer corps, and, as a result, the raising of the prestige of the army as a whole. What are the ways to achieve this? The restoration of the character traits that supposedly belonged only to the officers 'prior to the October Bolshevik revolution--such as honor, dignity, patriotism and loyalty to the interests of the Fatherland.' The establishment of national subunits. The improvement of the material security of officers. The increase in the role and influence of the NCO corps in the army. The elimination of the 'entire system of GlavPUR' in the army and the subordination of the party organizations of military collectives under territorial party organizations." "Workers' Detachments" [Lithuania]

[First appeared...in the fall of 1988, when the Spetsnaz and some in civilian clothes routed a meeting devoted to the anniversary of the signing of the Ribbentrop-Molotov pact. The meetings of "Unity," a committee of citizens of the USSR and the communist party, was guarded by patrols with red armbands. "Workers' detachments" began to be created in mass fashion at plants of all-union subordination starting in March of last year. A large influx into the "detachments" began after the tragic events of January.

"Calls to create armed detachments were sounded at a recent meeting of the active membership of the KPL [Communist Party of Lithuania]. The former chief of staff of the OMON [Special Purpose Militia] detachment, B. Makutinovich, is recruiting people and trying to find alternative forces to the Lithuanian police." (KOMSOMOL'SKAYA PRAVDA 12 Mar 91 p 1.)]

This is a U.S. Government publication. Its contents in no way represent the policies, views, or attitudes of the U.S. Government. Users of this publication may cite FBIS or JPRS provided they do so in a manner clearly identifying them as the secondary source.

Foreign Broadcast Information Service (FBIS) and Joint Publications Research Service (JPRS) publications contain political, military, economic, environmental, and sociological news, commentary, and other information, as well as scientific and technical data and reports. All information has been obtained from foreign radio and television broadcasts, news agency transmissions, newspapers, books, and periodicals. Items generally are processed from the first or best available sources. It should not be inferred that they have been disseminated only in the medium, in the language, or to the area indicated. Items from foreign language sources are translated; those from English-language sources are transcribed. Except for excluding certain diacritics, FBIS renders personal and place-names in accordance with the romanization systems approved for U.S. Government publications by the U.S. Board of Geographic Names.

Headlines, editorial reports, and material enclosed in brackets [] are supplied by FBIS/JPRS. Processing indicators such as [Text] or [Excerpts] in the first line of each item indicate how the information was processed from the original. Unfamiliar names rendered phonetically are enclosed in parentheses. Words or names preceded by a question mark and enclosed in parentheses were not clear from the original source but have been supplied as appropriate to the context. Other unattributed parenthetical notes within the body of an item originate with the source. Times within items are as given by the source. Passages in boldface or italics are as published.

SUBSCRIPTION/PROCUREMENT INFORMATION

The FBIS DAILY REPORT contains current news and information and is published Monday through Friday in eight volumes: China, East Europe, Soviet Union, East Asia, Near East & South Asia, Sub-Saharan Africa, Latin America, and West Europe. Supplements to the DAILY REPORTs may also be available periodically and will be distributed to regular DAILY REPORT subscribers. JPRS publications, which include approximately 50 regional, worldwide, and topical reports, generally contain less time-sensitive information and are published periodically.

Current DAILY REPORTs and JPRS publications are listed in Government Reports Announcements issued semimonthly by the National Technical Information Service (NTIS), 5285 Port Royal Road, Springfield, Virginia 22161 and the Monthly Catalog of U.S. Government Publications issued by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

The public may subscribe to either hardcover or microfiche versions of the DAILY REPORTs and JPRS publications through NTIS at the above address or by calling (703) 487-4630. Subscription rates will be provided by NTIS upon request. Subscriptions are available outside the United States from NTIS or appointed foreign dealers. New subscribers should expect a 30-day delay in receipt of the first issue.

U.S. Government offices may obtain subscriptions to the DAILY REPORTs or JPRS publications (hardcover or microfiche) at no charge through their sponsoring organizations. For additional information or assistance, call FBIS, (202) 338-6735, or write to P.O. Box 2604, Washington, D.C. 20013. Department of Defense consumers are required to submit requests through appropriate command validation channels to DIA, RTS-2C, Washington, D.C. 20301. (Telephone: (202) 373-3771, Autovon: 243-3771.)

Back issues or single copies of the DAILY REPORTs and JPRS publications are not available. Both the DAILY REPORTs and the JPRS publications are on file for public reference at the Library of Congress and at many Federal Depository Libraries. Reference copies may also be seen at many public and university libraries throughout the United States.
